Objectives

The focus of the cohort groups is applied learning through self-reflection and targeted feedback. Our Motto is 'learning by doing' - The content or theory are the ICF's core competencies. Our goal is taking you to the level where you can accurately assess whether the standard of your coaching is at the level required by the International coaching Federation and you are comfortable submitting recordings to the ICF for your own certification / recertification. Our Philosophy is 'Good, Better, Best' and we strive to provide you with the skills necessary to take you into the champions league of coaching with your clients. You will achieve this through a deeper partnership with us, your peers and yourself throughout the cohort group experience.

Benefits

- Engage with us throughout your certification and multi-year membership journey with the ICF at discounted rates.
- Build off the basis of your own coach Specific Training - connect the skills learnt in your own coach specific training to the ICF's Core competencies.
- Identify and learn your coaching strengths as well as any gaps or upgrade areas in your coaching.
- Become familiar with the ICF's new core competencies and create the necessary connections between the old and new competencies so that you understand and are comfortable coaching to minimum ICF PCC level.
- Learn coaching best practices, top tips & tricks as well as common pitfalls in coaching
- Cohort groups run between 3 and 6 months - depending on the pace of your learning.
- Group Learning is in 4 Modules – 6 Hours - Max 10 people per cohort
- The Self-paced learning is focused on both self - assessment as well as the assessment of coaching conversations from our client coaching database.
- Receive structured & direct regular feedback from peers and both of us.
- You will receive 2 Hours of individual Mentor Coaching from each of us.
- Choose whether you work in English, German French or any combination of these languages.
- Receive the skills, tools, and guidance necessary to be more comfortable sourcing the client recordings needed for certification.
